

M.L.A. Throws A Few Verbal Punches; Answers Questionnaire

Editor, Didsbury Pioneer.
Dear Sir:
It is very gratifying to find that the Mayor of Didsbury is still thirsting for information regarding the functions of the Provincial Government in relation to municipal, hospital and school affairs.
It is his perfect right to do so whether he does it through the pages of the local newspaper or by word of mouth from the M.L.A. in person. Since he has chosen the former course I shall reply to his questions via the same medium, with a word of thanks to our accommodating editor in allowing us to use his newspaper in this manner.

Obviously the entire front page of the Didsbury Pioneer is inadequate to answer these questions in the full complete manner I would like, however, if I should prove to be too brief in some of my explanations let no reader hesitate to contact me in person for the full and detailed treatment.

The first question deals with the seven mill increase in the Olds School division taxes in 1958. The inference being that there is no easement of this burden through Government generosity. Such is not the case. By no stretch of the imagination can the province be held responsible for the borrowings of the Municipal Governments. No other Provincial Government in Canada assumes such responsibility or in any way considers itself responsible for such borrowings. Nor does the Province indicate to the Municipal Governments whether they shall raise their revenues by an increase in taxes or by borrowing. They are completely free agents in this choice.

Likewise neither does the government dictate whether the governing body shall build a fifty thousand dollar structure or a one hundred thousand dollar one. The mill increase in the Olds school division this year could well be occasioned by the fact that those in authority have seen fit to add 62 new classrooms in the division. Naturally this program involves the expenditure of a large sum, almost one million dollars to be exact, of which almost fifty percent is paid by the Province. The Province grants and no where else in Canada are grants anywhere near approaching this magnitude made by the Provincial government to their school districts.

I do not propose to enter into a controversy as to why the school board was "forced" by Mr. Staunton says, into levying those additional 7 mills. I am assuming that the need for those rooms was there or they wouldn't be building them. I am also assuming that the board is managing the affairs of the school reasonably well or the electorate would have removed them. In closing this portion I should also like everyone to know that the Province also funds the education of almost 80 percent of the operational costs in the Olds School Division. In poorer districts less, up to 60 percent, in the richer districts less.

Question two asks as to whether this increase in taxation is common in other municipalities throughout the province. I believe I am correct in saying that there is no need for a rise in rates for this type of capital expansion and where the governing body has seen fit to meet that need, then it is quite likely there has been some increase in the mill rate. And three again the government grants to assist this expansion are double and triple those of any other province in Canada.

Question No. 3 asks why the difference between a Didsbury hospital mill rate of 6.75 as opposed to 5 mills in Three Hills, 4.5 in Olds and 4 in the Calgary district. The question suggests that this is hard to understand in view of the fact that all patients entering an Alberta hospital do so on the same basic rate. This statement is true, however the financial conditions, management and need of each different hospital district vary greatly and therein lies the possible answer to Mr. Staunton's 3rd question. For explanatory purposes the proposition may be set forth as follows: A standard mill rate for the province of three mills exist at the present time. This rate was arrived at through a comprehensive survey of all the municipal hospitals in the Province which survey yielded the information that the average hospital could be operated efficiently on this amount. However, one mill was added on April 1st to provide for chronic patients care (chronic patients now get the same co-insurance rates that active treatment patients pay from $1.50 to $2.00 per day). The extra mill was added April 1st, 1959, which would make the mill rate for 1959 3.4. The other 2 mills levied by the board could be for a number of things.

No. 1: Capital costs accruing in 1958 subject to 1959 assessment.
No. 2: Extra equipment or staff needed for special or improved service.
No. 3: Reserves for future requirements.

This accounts for variations in hospital rates throughout the province and different areas. The entire capital costs for hospital construction are now paid by the province as of January 1st, 1959. For operational purposes additional costs are for the above reasons and are the responsibility of the local boards. These costs are divided in the following manner: Approximately 10 percent by the municipality, 10 percent by the patient, 30 percent by the federal government and 50 percent by the province. No where else on this continent can such a generous arrangement be found as any Alberta citizen will find should he have occasion to enter a hospital.

Question No. 4 deals with the activities of the Municipal Finance Corporation and asks why borrow in New York at 5.21 percent when we are supposed to be in such healthy financial condition ourselves. Our questioner fails to take into consideration that the reserves for the $350,000,000 have been accumulated over a period of years and as they piled up they were invested in the future of Alberta. In the towns and villages by way of water and sewer systems in the bringing of 110 volt power to thousands of farms, self liquidating projects of this sort that have provided our citizens with a better way of life. Would you have it differently.

Then of course we acquire Diebener and with him procrastination and an energy board which effectively halted the mighty gas and oil industry in our province from which the revenues are derived. The theoretical cost of $48,000,000 which is causing the opposition parties so much concern is not actually a deficit at all, but merely a restraint on the part of the Government in distributing the loan made to the various governing bodies in the province in favor of short term financing for the truly important and necessary projects being embarked upon in this province now and for the next five years. I might also add that recent sales of oil leases, etc. have at the time of writing already reduced that so called deficit by almost $20,000,000. It is quite possible that very little of it will be left by the end of the year. (Continued On Back Page)

High School Graduates Enjoy Annual Banquet

"With our present civilization advanced as it is, we need as much education as we can get," stated Vicky Veenstra, valedictorian of the 1958-59 Didsbury High School graduating class. Vicky went on to say that this occasion is a "turning point in our lives" and the "entrance into an adult world."

The following 14 grade XII students were honored at a banquet held on Friday, May 29th in the school auditorium: Maxine Campbell, Thelma Elzen, George Lamb, Gerry Madore, Bill Morton, Lorry Nimmous, Sylvia Sieton, Carolyn Snyder, Wayne Snyder, Eloise Spreeman, Lyla Tohm, David Traub, Vicky Veenstra, Clifford Youngs.

Carolyn Snyder gave the invocation after which the banquet, prepared by the Home and School Association, was served by the grade nine girls.

COUNCIL BRINGS DOWN NEW MILL RATE

A regular meeting of the Town Council was held Monday, June 1st, with mayor and all councillors present.

The estimates for 1959 were discussed. It was decided to keep expenditures at minimum and operate on a figure for 1959 comparable to that of 1958, notwithstanding the housing boom from the School Division from $40,200 in 1958 to $44,285 in 1959, which figure does not allow for the 5 percent cash discount on current taxes.

The mill rates were set at School 38, Hospital 5 and Municipal 18. Total amalgamated levy 61 mills. The estimated revenue is approx imately the same as in 1958, however the total assessment dropped from $1,340,000 in 1958 to $1,221,440 for 1959, necessitating the higher

And A Friendly Nod To . . .

The graduates of the local school who will pull up stakes at the end of the month and move along a new trail. There'll be bumps and bruises on the road ahead but we hope and trust they won't be insurmountable. We'd like to be around at some future date when they meet old school pals and hear that famous remark: "Remember when we . . ." Go your different ways grads; do your different things; but never be indifferent to your school years. Even this reporter remembers "when we usta" . . .

Protection To Start Soon . . .

Hail suppression crews will be set-up and ready for action in the Municipal District of Mountain View by June 20th. Taking a lesson from past performances we understand that a few new gimmicks will be added to the protected belt this year. The way the weather has been treating us of late this could be the year of the big test insofar as controlling the white menace in this area is concerned.

Clean-Up Job Coming ? ? ?

The suggestion made in this column a few weeks ago as regards cleaning of the hard-top seems to have fallen on deaf ears. At the time of writing the paved portions could stand a lotta polishing. Montreal, a centre a bit larger than "our town", have put a few vacuum affair units into use to clean the avenues. Maybe that's the answer — let's borrow all the vacuum cleaners in town and hold ourselves a "bee."

Don't Mock At This Bird Yet !!!

A gentleman down in Big D (Dallas, Texas, not Didsbury, Alta.) has proved once again that man is smarter than the animal — or has he?

The Texan's tussle actually took place with one of our feathered friends — a mocking bird to be exact — and involved a garage door as well. Seems a Mr. Roger Harlan, an electronics expert, rigged his garage door so that it would open when he honked his automobile horn or whistled. So accurately was the device tuned to Mr. Harlan's horn and whistle, that a neighbor could not whistle the door open.

At any rate, all went well on the Harlan homestead until the man of the house began finding the garage door open when he came home.

A few days later Mrs. Harlan reported a mocking bird arrived daily, perched on a basketball hoop above the door and had a delightful time opening and closing the door by matching Mr. Harlan's whistle. Mr. Harlan countered by putting in another circuit, which has to be tripped four times in rapid succession before it operates the door. For several days, the bird tried in vain to match the timing, then gave up and flew away.

At least the news story says the bird gave up and flew away, but we suspect it will be back and Mr. Harlan's troubles will start all over again. That bird is probably off somewhere whetting his whistle to the point where he will be able to warble four times on rapid succession.

These winged creatures have been giving man and his works the bird for a long time, of course. Mention the word "starling" in certain parts of Ontario, for instance, and the worm will turn with a vengeance on you. Similarly, a man out on the West Coast recently reported trouble with the local sea gulls which apparently mistook his flat-topped house for the beach. The birds flew over in droves and used the roof as a giant clam-breaker-opener. The noise of the falling clams hitting the roof disturbed the tennants but made the gulls happy as the clams they would then eat. The owner had to turn the roof into a giant rural mural before the gulls went back to dive bombing beach rocks.

So somehow we think that mocking bird will be back when he's figured out Mr. Harlan's new whistle. And it's quite possible the bird may exact revenge by closing the door, or lowering the boom, just as Mr. Harlan drives into the garage.

It is to be hoped he doesn't drive a convertible. — Selected

UNION STRENGTH

Canadian labor unions may count themselves fortunate if they can keep growing over the next five years as fast as they have been growing since the war, says Leslie Wilson of The Financial Post.

Reason: The replacement of men by machines, so-called "automation," is on the upgrade in Canadian industry.

This is a conclusion of some economists here which is bolstered by figures of labor union membership in the U.S. where "industrial" unions — those which spread across whole industries such as steel or automobiles as opposed to those which extend throughout one craft inside an industry — have been slipping badly.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

The aim of education should be to convert the mind into a living fountain, and not a reservoir.

— John M. Mason

Next in importance to freedom and justice is popular education, without which neither freedom nor justice can be permanently maintained.

— James A. Garfield

You should have education enough so that you won't have to look up to people; and then more education so that you will be wise enough not to look down on people.

— M. L. Bowen

Guest Editorial

Two very important criminal trials were heard in Edmonton and Calgary during the past week where our jury system was on trial. Right here we want to offer every sympathy to the citizen who is called on the jury and is bound by oath to do his duty. But the fact remains that both these cases we have in mind were out and out murders, according to the evidence, but the juries reduced the seriousness of the crimes to cases of manslaughter.

True, that was their privilege, but the net result is to undermine the confidence of the public in our courts of law.

A jury does not prescribe the punishment, it merely decides the issue involved. The wisdom of the presiding Judge takes over from there. When a man can stand up and pump death from a rifle into his fellowman and bring death, and have the fact established by any number of witnesses, then have his crime adjudged manslaughter only, it is time for the public to reassess the value of our jury system.

ANOTHER FAMOUS QUOTE . . .

Perhaps the most valuable result of all education is the ability to make yourself do the thing you have to do when it has to be done, whether you like it or not.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God the Preserver of Man" — the Lesson-Sermon to be read at Christian Science services Sunday — is based upon the inspiring experience of the patriarch Abraham.

Scriptural selections will include Paul's statement to the Galatians (3:7): "Know ye therefore that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham."

The meaning for today of Abraham's lifework will be emphasized by selections read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (579:12) "This patriarch illustrated the purpose of Love to create trust in good, and showed the life-preserving power of spiritual understanding."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (16:1): "Preserve me, O God for in thee do I put my Trust."

Unions Swing The Big Stick

Who Rules Canada?
The text books tell us it is ruled by the Dominion Parliament and the Provincial Legislatures.

But recent events clearly indicate that there is a power behind the throne which controls the actions of our elected governments and our political parties.

When lawlessness broke out during a labor dispute in Newfoundland, land and the local authorities called for additional police to help maintain law and order, and to protect the rights of non-striking citizens, and when the reinforcements were assembled for the purpose, the Government at Ottawa intervened and forbade them to move.

This was done on the pretext that if the Mounted Police were to do their duty in this case they might be accused of strike-breaking a more serious offence than law-breaking? We know of no law permitting strikers to interfere in any way with the rights of other people.

But so much lawlessness has been allowed during labor disputes by the law enforcement authorities in Canada that the unions have come to believe there is such a law and are acting accordingly.

Now the time seems to have arrived when the Government itself takes that view and has decided that no police under its control shall be used to maintain law and order during industrial disputes.

The logical sequence to this decision is that in future labor disputes non-striking will have to defend themselves as best they can.

Wise men tell us that when the constituted authority abdicates its power to protect the rights of the citizens, that power reverts to the citizens themselves. We seem to have reached that point in Canada.

The amazing thing is that no political party has had the courage to challenge the Government's action in thus interfering with the police.

Are all political parties so completely under the thumb of the labor unions that none of them dare speak out in such a case? It looks that way.

PLUMBING FIXTURES

The purchase of plumbing fixtures is for most persons a lifetime investment and one deserving of the most careful study. All those planning to build, remodel or re-equip should strive in the first instance to define what is to be accomplished. In this way, they may clarify their thoughts, visualize the ultimate appearance of their purchase and come to appraise the real value of such a long term outlay.

An old saying "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" applies to your fixtures. Always remember that in the final analysis, the glaze on vitreous china and the enamel on cast iron or steel fixtures is nothing more or less than a member of the silica family of minerals; in other words, although opaque, it is a variety of glass. Once a plumbing fixture has been badly defaced or damaged it is impossible to restore its original beauty, no matter what cleaning or repair steps are taken. This is serious because plumbing fixtures are permanently installed and not easily replaced like other items of household equipment. If a faucet is allowed to drip, discoloration of fixture will result and may be impossible to correct. Replace faucet washers promptly. Better still have your plumber to install modern dripless faucets having pressure under the seat, which insures tightness.

Avoid running scalding water into a fixture previously chilled by ice cold water and vice versa. These shocks from extreme temperatures changes may crack the fixtures clear through.

To prevent chipping enamel surfaces use plastic protection mats and plastic containers where possible. Be particularly careful to avoid abrasion of enameling surfaces either from encausted pots

NOTES FROM

The District
Agriculturist
HOWARD
FULCHER

In the quality of hay the advantages of early harvesting are important. Careful planning of the haymaking operations will result in a better quality forage.

By early harvesting of forage crops the greatest yield of digestible feed value will be obtained, this is the much needed protein and vitamin content. Another advantage of early haying is that a better grazing value will be realized from the regrowth of aftermath. In seeded hay fields a better second cut will be taken when the first cut is taken early.

The time to cut the hay for maximum quality is as soon as the grasses have headed, in the case of legumes just as they are coming to bloom. When the two are grown together in a mixture the stages of maturity of both the grass and legume must be considered and a balance struck for cutting time. By choosing the proper time the hay as well as high in quality will have a low percentage of fibrous undig-estible matter.

Adverse weather is often a problem and is faced yearly at haying time. Many farmers are changing to the silage method of putting up the first cut, in seeded hay fields, as silage.

When the hay is cut early the tonnage may be slightly reduced but with the better quality feed and increase yield in aftermath grazing or second cutting it is a profitable business to harvest hay early.

and pans or when cleaning. However, if the glaze is chipped it can be touched up with a special china cement.

You are urged to use care in selecting a rubber drainboard mat-— while the good ones protect the surface, unproved varieties sometimes do almost as much harm in marking the fixtures. In these latter cases, as the wet mat becomes soapy it may leave marks that cannot be removed. It would also retain harmful liquids in contact with the sink for a long period with consequent possibility of damage. Also there are rubber cleaners which should be used to keep your drain-boards sanitary.

A pailful of scalding water poured into plumbing fixtures frequently is good practice for maintaining clear traps and drains. To ease household labour different types of detergents have been developed. For the bathroom, a soluble bath oil has the emulsifying properties so eminently desirable; while for the kitchen and laundry, manufacturers are packaging synthetic soap powders with equal success.

DISTRICT NEWS

M.V.B.C. NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

This column will not appear for several weeks because your correspondent will be on vacation. We hope that every one will have a good month and that when I return there will be more good news for all the readers.

President Taylor, and the delegation group held a weekend Bible conference in Castor beginning last Thursday evening. They reported good services when they returned Monday morning.

LaVerne Neufeld is making good progress on the president's house. Plans for painting and decorating are in progress, and when the Taylors return from their summer's work in Winona Lake it will no doubt be ready for occupancy.

Conference this week will make the campus a busy place again. It will conclude on Thursday afternoon and the board of directors of the college will meet either Thursday evening or Friday morning, depending on the time of conference closing. Rev. Kenneth Geiger, general superintendent will be in charge, and Rev. H. A. Traub, district superintendent will be co-chairman. Several changes in the pastoral relations board in stationing Mr. and Mrs. Ormond Shortek at Amdia Valley, and Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Neufeld at May City. These young men will receive practical experience before going to their active fields in Nigeria and northern Canada for work among the Eskimos.

Miss Sherrill Taylor took her Toronto Conservatory Examination last Monday in Grade III piano. This is her first examination and we hope she passes with honors.

Miss Gladys Eby leaves for California to visit her two brothers next Saturday. They are making it possible for her to fly from Vancouver to Los Angeles and she will arrive there Sunday, June 7th. She will be gone a month. Mrs. Phyllis Sherick and Miss Doreen Rossing will look after the office work in the college during her absence.

Ted Veenstra who has been in college a year is making his way to the far north to secure work for the summer. He will return to school in the fall. Several fine applications have been received for freshmen next year. Those in the community wishing to enroll should do so now. Application forms may be secured at any time from the office.

Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Traub will be in Calgary for the summer. Traub will be doing carpentry work with his brother Kenneth and will return as piano teacher here in the fall.

LIGHT YOUR WAY ...

... WITH BIBLE STUDY

We conclude the Lord's Prayer with the doxology: "For Thine is the Kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever and ever, Amen."

In stating the reason why we come with all boldness to the Lord with our petitions, we address God in words which praise His majesty, power, and glory. These words strengthen our faith in our heavenly Father as the bountiful and gracious Giver of all good gifts.

The words mean this. All things belong to Thee, Lord. Thou canst give them to us. All honor belongs to Thee. We must thank Thee. All that I ask in faith, God will give me in His own way and at His appointed time.

We would never pray to any one else, because God alone, the True God, is the proper authority to whom we should go in prayer. As our true King and Father, He is concerned about the well-being of His subjects and children. As our King, He also has the power to answer our prayers. He needed not ask a council or prime minister for advice, nor as assembly for authority to grant our petitions. He owns all the vast treasures of heaven and earth. And we come to Him, not because we deserve a reward or praise, but trusting wholly in Him that He will answer, we also offer our praise and thanks. He will always and ever be present to hear us and answer us.

W. H. Dau, summed up this up on the matter of prayer: "Our prayers for temporal things are not orders which we write to a bank where we have a deposit and which must be promptly honored by it, but they are beggar's petitions, which are subject to rejection or revision at the Lord's pleasure. He hears them in far greater way than we can imagine if we leave them in manner of fulfillment all to Him."

May this series of articles have strengthened you in your prayer life.

SPRUCE TREES: Lately I have had a great number of calls from people who are anxious about the condition of their spruce trees. They are turning brown and appear very unhealthy. It is very likely that this condition is being caused by the presence of the spruce spider mite.

These tiny insect pests are microscopic in size and cannot be seen without a powerful magnifying glass. They fasten themselves to the needles of the spruce trees and proceed to suck the sap out of them. They are never satisfied but will continue to take the sap out of the needles until eventually the trees, particularly the needles will take on a brownish rust color.

These sap-sucking insects will continue to cling to the needles of the trees until either the tree is completely dead or until you take some positive action to kill the spider mites. We have had very good success in this connection through the use of the new powerful insecticide called malathion. This is mixed with water and sprayed on the trees.

Malathion is available from the Municipal office along with instructions on how to use it. Incidentally, Malathion will also kill the yellow headed spruce saw-fly worm. Some of you have used Altrin to cope with these worms satisfactorily, but we prefer to use Malathion on the spruce spider mite.
